

HEADLINES

Independent Education Union of Australia NSW/ACT Branch

June 2017

Hello,

In this edition of Headlines there are lots of tips on how to support yourself, your teachers and support staff. June 14 is Education Support Staff Day. Why not organise a morning tea or other event to celebrate their contribution to your school and school community?

John Qessy

Secretary, Independent Education Union of Australia NSW/ACT Branch

Read the latest from your Union

New staff and accreditation

As principals or assistant/deputy principals, it's important to understand the role you play in employing teaching staff and understanding and assisting with their accreditation status.

Take a look

Protection for HSC markers

Union action has protected conditions for on screen briefings for HSC markers.

Read more

Latest from Principals Branch

The Principals Branch met on Saturday, 6 May. Retired teachers and principals and accreditation came up for discussion.

Take a look

PD update

Our program of Professional Development for 2017 is up and running and successfully providing both NESA registered and non registered PD to members.

Read more

Creating a unity of purpose

Canberra Principal Peter Galvin has been an active Union member since the early 1980s.

"I've never found it to be a conflict, in fact it enhances my role as principal. My belief in fairness puts me on the same page with my staff and it helps them to know where I stand."

Look out for Peter's story in the June issue of Newsmoth.

